└── Prize Pool

└── Platform Operations

└── Product Development

└── Marketing

└── Business Reserve

Prize Pool is calculated only from Net Event Revenue.

5. Prize Pool Policy (LOCKED)

QuizArena follows a Hybrid Prize Pool Model.

Up to 30% of Net Event Revenue is allocated to prizes, with a guaranteed minimum prize pool announced before registrations open.

This ensures:

- Financial sustainability
- Fair participant rewards
- Predictable event marketing
- Scalability as participation grows

The guaranteed minimum prize pool is announced individually for every Monthly Mega Challenge and National Championship.

Example

Instead of advertising:

Prize Pool = 30%

QuizArena announces:

Monthly Mega Challenge

Guaranteed Prize Pool

₹2,000

(May Increase Based On Participation)

Suppose:

- 25 participants
- ₹49 Entry Fee

Revenue

$25 \times ₹49$

=

₹1,225

Even though the percentage-based prize pool would be smaller, QuizArena still awards the Guaranteed ₹2,000 Prize Pool as a promotional investment.

Now suppose:

- 500 participants
- ₹49 Entry Fee

Revenue

$500 \times ₹49$

=

₹24,500

Now the percentage-based prize pool naturally exceeds the guarantee, so the prize pool scales upward based on participation.

This creates trust for learners while protecting long-term business sustainability.

18. Guiding Principle (LOCKED)

Every paid competition must deliver meaningful value to learners while remaining financially sustainable for QuizArena.

The objective is to create a platform where learners return consistently, improve continuously, compete fairly, and trust that QuizArena rewards both participation and excellence through a transparent, scalable, and sustainable competition economy.

Final Assessment

I would now consider the QuizArena v1.0 commercial model locked. At this stage, I would avoid changing pricing, rewards, or monetization unless real user data after launch demonstrates a clear need. The remaining work should shift to engineering, content creation, design, testing, and launching the platform on 15 August 2026.
